

The smoke will wash out of her clothes, but not her lungs.

Wait staff and bartenders have four times the rate of lung cancer and twice the rate of heart disease compared to any other profession. Anyone exposed to secondhand smoke is breathing into their lungs at least 50 known carcinogens and more than 4,000 chemicals including formaldehyde, arsenic and cyanide. And once those poisons are inhaled—they don't wash out—they do damage!

To learn more visit www.smokefreeindy.com

Everyone has a right to breathe smoke free air.

Smoke
Free! Indy
expect it. enjoy it.

www.smokefreeindy.com